ANTOINE

Antoine wasn't predestinated to be a winemaker. He chose to embrace a quite different pace early in his life as a professional photographer. It's only in 2012 that he came back to the family estate in Monein with the conviction that this 5 Ha with equal part of Petit and Gros Manseng was made for great living wines. A focus on biodiversity, an eco-responsible winery, for Antoine, winemaking is a question of the living, in its entirety and biodynamic a way of living.
